

Name: Khairul Islam

Khairul belongs to a backward class family, his father is a van driver and earns about Rs. 150/- to 200/- which is not regular. Khairul studied till class VIII standard. He resides in a rural remote area including four members in his family.

He is an intelligent boy and tackled the difficult situation of his family in order to overcome the situation in spite of living under poverty line. He was looking for an opportunity where he can show his effort and make himself reliant. He was very much fortunate to get the opportunity to avail the vocational training programme conducted by SARANI. He joined in “Solar Appliances and house wiring” and come out successfully because and showed his sincerity during the entire training period.

Presently, he is working in his own area. He visits every house and inspires them to install solar appliances. If anyone wants to install solar they call khairul and from which he earns Rs. 400/- to Rs. 450/-. He is getting collective work from his trainer. We pray for his better success in future so that SARANI could see the reflections and guidance of our organization in his career. He is able to earn around three Thousand five Hundred to four Thousand five hundred Rupees (3,500-4,500/-) per month.

He expressed his gratefulness to FVTRS as well as SARANI for getting the opportunity for undergoing training programme.
