father to sustain their livelihood. Ram Krishna used to prepare vermin-compost manures by himself in his homestead land. Although he produced vermin-compost with the help of his own wisdoms which did not fetch him enough benefits.

He came to know that training have been organized by 'SARANI' on the preparation of vermin-compost in his community. He showed interest to attend the same and wanted to gain proper knowledge to prepare vermin-compost in his land. He did learn the process and was very happy to start immediately in his land. He understood that the way he used to do, was not at all a proper process.

Presently, he is producing high quality of vermin- compost manures. Most of the manures he sells in the local market and the rest he applies in his kitchen garden. He produced various vegetables from his kitchen garden and got some impressive amount of Rs. 6500/-by selling the same in the local market. Now he is happy and able to support his father to run his family smoothly. He expressed his gratefulness to FVTRS as well as SARANI for getting the opportunity for undergoing training programme
